

Essentials of Criminal Investigations: Instructor Bio

Gary W. Graff retired from the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) after 23 years of service. Assignments included Ohio and Oklahoma. Mr. Graff's criminal investigative experience included coordinating numerous multi-agency investigations from inception to prosecution. Cases included public corruption, financial crimes, violent crimes, Indian Country crime, narcotics, and fraud. He was a member of the FBI's Evidence Response Team and was a Certified Police Instructor. He has a B.S. in Electrical Engineering from the University of Oklahoma and is a certified fraud examiner. He consults and teaches in a variety of disciplines including interviewing, case management, white-collar investigations, crime scene processing and reconstruction, shooting incident reconstruction, and tactical firearms. Graff is a retired USMC Major, Signals Intelligence field.

Iris Dalley served as a Special Agent for the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation (OSBI), retiring in 2009. During her career, she worked with various police agencies in processing and investigating hundreds of homicide investigations. Dalley has a B.S in Biology and a Masters in Secondary Sciences. Since retiring from OSBI, she has provided case consultation, forensic analysis and instruction in bloodstain pattern analysis, crime scene reconstruction, and shooting incident reconstruction, in the United States and other countries. She is a Fellow and Distinguished Member of the Association for Crime Scene Reconstruction and former president of the International Association of Bloodstain Pattern Analysts.

Graff and Dalley spent much of their careers developing criminal cases with local law enforcement. Much of the material in this class was derived from mistakes made, lessons learned, and techniques developed in the field to produce quality investigative work product. They remain dedicated to sharing their collective experience and helping officers improve their skills.